FOR THE HUMANITIES

This event will be hosted by the Owens Valley Paiute Shoshone Cultural Center and is made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH): Sustaining Humanities through the American Rescue Plan (SHARP) in partnership with the Association of Tribal Libraries, Archives, and Museums (ATALM).

Bishop Paiute tribal member Natalie Haskins self-published her first book of poetry in September 2022. “Where Once Was A Fire: A Book of Love Poems,” is her first collection of published poetry. It is a journey through love, loss, and eventually love of self. All the poems in the book are written by Natalie and are very personal writings in chronological order from 2019 to 2022, journeying a story of love. The book is available exclusively online through her website at www.NatalieHaskins.com.

She also works as a singer-songwriter and has been performing over 15 years. Primarily based in San Luis Obispo, she has performed at many of the premier stages on the Central Coast.

In 2020 she released her self-produced debut Americana album “Puhidua,” which translates to Wildflower in Nüümü. The title is a tribute to her native culture and features 16 original songs. The album won Album of the Year at the 2020 New Times Music Awards and was chosen as one of the top Ten Albums of 2020 by KCBX Radio Staff. “Puhidua” is played regularly on Krush 92.5, KJUG, and KCBX (NPR).

In September 2019 Natalie also produced and released “Electric,” a moving piano ballad about love and loss. She is currently recording her second album, “Beautiful Flaw,” set to be released sometime in Summer 2023.

Natalie’s performances are filled with heart, humor, and stories. Her ability to connect with people through storytelling, poetry and songs makes her shows unforgettable. You can find her at www.NatalieHaskins.com and hear her music on all streaming platforms.
